Give Them Wisdom.

The Tree of Perspective

The methods of the enemy to destroy the relationship between children and their parents include The Lie and The Attack. When children believe The Lie, they move from under their parent's umbrella of protection and are open to The Attack.

The Lie: Recap from Genesis 3

- Doubt the wisdom of your word.
- Deny the truth of your word.
- Distort your character.

The Attack: Recap from Daniel 1

- Separate and remove your child from your family and values.
- Saturate your child with a different culture and worldview.
- Feed your child's appetite.
- Make the focus totally upon your child.

The Parent's Perspective

Because of your perspective you can teach and prepare your children what to expect before they experience "The Lie" and/or "The Attack." Being "higher in the tree" means you have a longer range of perspective from which to guide your children around many of the pitfalls the enemy has hidden along their life's journey.

Bringing It Home

Have a discussion with your child(ren) about the "tree." Explain that you have been their age, and life has taught you many lessons. Consequently, as their "umbrella of protection" you can help to safely guide them around the pits the enemy has placed in their road of life.
